

The nuclear warhead convoy that passed through England yesterday travelling from AWE Burghfield reached RNAD Coulport at 3.30pm today.

Attached is a photo of the main (front) convoy on the M74 in Scotland today. There are also more escort vehicles and a rear support convoy.

This was in total disregard of the national lockdown and the intense pressure on the NHS, which would have had to cope with any nuclear road accident.

Nukewatchers monitored and tracked the movement of this convoy, the most dangerous cargo on our roads.
