The Climate Needs Peace

the vicious cycle of war and climate change

War is a humanitarian catastrophe... but it is an environmental catastrophe too, and military spending squanders resources that need to be spent to combat climate change.

Hilary Evans, vice-chair of the Movement for the Abolition of War, and Linda Modica, co-chair of the Appalachian Peace Education Center in Abingdon, Virginia, USA, will explore the issues.

Did you know that military emissions are not even counted by the UN for COP26?
