

NUKEWATCH QUARTERLY

Nukewatch announces U.S. Activists to join international nuclear weapons protests in the Netherlands and Germany in August.

Plus...

The Summer 2023 edition of the Nukewatch Quarterly is now ready for viewing online

Click here to read the whole newsletter "cover to cover" on our website, or scroll down to browse the articles featured in this email.

www.nukewatchinfo.org

Donate online below or mail cash or check to 740 Round Lake Rd. Luck WI 54853.

Your gift keeps Nukewatch going - funding campaigns, direct action, research, and watchdog journalism to end the tyranny of nuclear weapons and reactors.

Donate

U.S. Activists to Join Protests Against U.S. Nuclear Weapons Deployed in The Netherlands and Germany

A delegation of U.S. peace activists will travel to The Netherlands and Germany this August 4-10, to join international nuclear weapons protests focused on removing the U.S. nuclear weapons still stationed at the Netherlands' Volkel Air Base, 85 miles south of Amsterdam, and at Germany's Büchel Air Force Base, southeast of Cologne. The group of 11 anti-nuclear activists hail from Arizona, California, Connecticut, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, and New York.

... Read More

Nukewatch Summer Quarterly Starts

A delegation of U.S. peace activists will travel to The Netherlands and Germany this August 4-10, to join international nuclear weapons protests focused on removing the U.S. nuclear weapons still stationed at the Netherlands' Volkel Air Base, 85 miles south of Amsterdam, and at Germany's Büchel Air Force Base, southeast of Cologne. The group of 11 anti-nuclear activists hail from Arizona, California, Connecticut, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, and New York.

... Read

More

Nukewatch Staffer Appeals to European Court, Claims Unfair Trial Court Decisions in Germany

By Nukewatch Staff

Nukewatch co-director John LaForge has appealed to a European human rights court claiming that his criminal trespass convictions stemming from nuclear weapons protests in Germany were based on unfair judicial errors.

LaForge was convicted of two charges of trespass and damage to property after separate protest actions at Germany's Büchel Air Force Base, 80 miles southeast of Cologne. The base stations approximately 20 U.S. hydrogen bombs, that German pilots train to use in attacks on Russia, as part of a controversial program called "nuclear sharing."

... Read More

Donate HERE

Read Full Quarterly Online HERE

Drive for Illegal Uranium Mining in New Mexico; Cleanup Obligations Unfulfilled

By Leona Morgan

Due to the push for climate solutions and the geopolitics currently at work in Ukraine, there is increased interest in producing uranium for both energy and weapons, threatening those living near uranium sites. Regardless of its end use, new or increased uranium mining results in the same death and destruction for frontline communities, with no guarantee of proper cleanup or compensation.

... Read More
